

KEITH KRACH

Official Medium Bio

Keith Krach is an entrepreneur, former U.S. diplomat, and civic leader whose career has focused on building companies, institutions, and alliances at the intersection of technology, trust, and freedom.

He serves as CEO of Freedom 250; Chairman and Co-Founder of the Krach Institute for Tech Diplomacy at Purdue; Chairman of the U.S.-Taiwan Business Council; and Co-Chair of the Global Tech Security Commission. Through these roles, he works on civic participation, technology diplomacy, trusted technology, economic security, and cooperation among democratic partners.

Krach served as U.S. Under Secretary of State for Economic Growth, Energy, and the Environment from 2019 to 2021. In that role, he led economic-security initiatives involving trusted technology, supply-chain resilience, strategic technology sectors, and international partnerships. He led the State Department team behind the Clean Network, advanced U.S.-Taiwan economic and technology cooperation, and supported efforts to strengthen semiconductor supply chains and trusted technology partnerships among democratic nations.

Before public service, Krach built and led category-defining technology companies. He served as Chairman and CEO of DocuSign; co-founded Ariba and served as Chairman and CEO; co-founded Rasna Corporation and served as Chief Operating Officer; and became General Motors' youngest-ever vice president. He also served as Chairman of the Purdue University Board of Trustees and as the 64th Grand Consul of Sigma Chi International Fraternity. Krach earned a B.S. in Industrial Engineering from Purdue University and an MBA from Harvard Business School, and Purdue awarded him an honorary Doctor of Industrial Engineering degree in 2018.

Read Keith Krach's Full Biography →

KEITH
— KRACH

www.keithkrach.com